Tom Rufford, the Kentucky murderer, didn't get off so easy after all. The jury, after a lengthy deliberation, gave him a life sentence. But suppose he had been a "nigger"?

The Wisconsin Republicans had a grand time at their convention yesterday. The present state officers were all re-elected, and the convention promulgated a platform which has the true ring. It will be found in full in our telegraphic columns, and will be found worth reading.

Among the arrivals at Castle Garden, New York, Sunday, were 350 Russian immigrants, bound for homesteads in Dakota Territory. The party brought with them their household goods, and a common fund of $100,000.

Lowell, Mass., firm are to ship 100 dressed cattle to Liverpool on Saturday next as an experiment, and are now constructing a large refrigerator on the steamship Siberia, which sails from Boston on that day. In case the venture is a success, they will increase their regular shipments to 400.

For the first time in the history of this United States, cotton and tobacco are obliged to take a back seat, and wheat, corn, and provisions come to the front as the leading articles of production. King cotton is dethroned, undoubtedly for all time, and the stuff that the Southern planter produces is of secondary consequences compared with the products of Northern farms. For the eleven months ending May 30, 1879, the exportation of cotton and tobacco have been exceeded by the exportation of breadstuffs and provisions. Wheat and corn take the lead at $192,000,000; cotton comes next at $159,000,000; provisions, $107,000,000; and tobacco brings up the rear at $27,000,000.—Chicago Tribune.

The Washington Republican has been forecasting the future of congress as to the number of representatives under the next apportionment. Estimating the population of the country in 1880 at 48,500,000 it estimates the number of representatives at 300. The Southern States, it thinks, will lose 7, while the Northern States will gain 21, making a gain of 14; also that Texas and Missouri will each gain three, while the other Southern States will lose 12.—Assuming that the population will be 50,000,000, as Mr. Elliott estimates, and that the number of representatives will be 300, the Republican assigns 213 representatives to the Northern States and 87 to the Southern States. According to this estimate the strength of the Northern States in the electoral college will be 257, while that of the Southern States will be only 119. According to the first estimates, Iowa and Kansas will gain four representatives; Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota three each; Nebraska, two; Wisconsin, one.

Ex-Justice and Senator David Davis is not only both a Republican and a Democrat, but he is as broad as he is high. As president he could sign bills with one hand and veto bills with the other. If bad comes to worse each party might nominate half of him, put half of him on their banners and tickets, and, in an emergency, count half of him in.

Fun for Cash Buyers.
At the great clearing sale of Summer Goods, at the Popular New York Store, 18c will buy worsted dress goods worth 18c and 15c; 15c will buy beautiful style suit suitings worth 25c and 30c; 40c will buy a $1 parasol; 50c will buy a zephyr shawl, any color, sold elsewhere at $1.50. The only place for real live bargains in dry goods is at the Popular New York Store. July 22-d&wtf.

Ayer's Fifth Annual Excursion for 1879. This excursion will take in the "Friendly Hand" trip to Niagara Falls and return, $7.50; Toronto, Put-in-Bay and Detroit, each, $1 extra; and, in addition, a choice selection of routes through the lakes to Mackinaw, Marquette, Duluth, St. Paul, and home via Chicago or Quincy, also across the state of Michigan to Grand Haven, and home via Milwaukee or Chicago. Of the Niagara Falls trip it is too well known to say anything in its praise, and all know that Ayer never offers anything in the way of routes or hotels except the very best. He will personally supervise the trip to the Falls and home via Put-in-Bay. Parties who desire can go direct to Put-in-Bay, and remain there the limit of the ticket, arriving on Wednesday and leaving Monday morning. Programmes can be found after Monday, July 28th, at a Whisk depot. July 22-d&wtf.

Many people wonder at our low prices. But, ladies and gentlemen, a nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling. And all summer goods must be closed out of our store at once. Being business on this principle, and buying and selling strictly for cash, in the heart of our present low season, and has built up our large flourishing store, and is still increasing the business of Lambert & Co., proprietors of the Popular New York Store. Ex-door-keeper Polk has quit abusing Carter Harrison and turned his forces upon the whole Democratic party. In a letter written for publication in a Washington paper recently, he has the following to say about the acts of folly and stupidity of the Democracy:

The Democrats in Congress have done more to nominate Grant than all his friends have, or could do, by affirming solidly the extreme state rights doctrine in their speeches on the judicial bill, led on by the Vice President and Postmaster General of the Confederacy. To that pernicious doctrine must be charged all the troubles and sorrow that ever befell the United States, and the people, far in advance of the politicians on that question, so regard and condemn it. No matter what was intended when the compact was formed, they look at its operations practically, and justly charge to it the devastating consequences of the war and the interrupted relation of the sections. But few advocate it in an unreasonable degree, except those to whom the civil war furnished the opportunity to get into Congress. In the minds of the people it will be a blessed day when it becomes obsolete, and ceases to be an issue, and when we are a nation with a government not to be shaken and rent asunder by the wild leadership of your Toombses and your Yanceys.

It is almost beyond belief that the leading Democrats of Congress should have walked into the trap set for them by the Republicans, led by Garfield. Their blindness can be accounted for but in one way, and that is that they entertain the foolish belief that the party was returned to power on the States' rights issue. For one, I decline to follow again to my ruin that ignis fatuus. The speeches made on the floor of the House by the Democratic leaders to-day will cost the party Ohio in October, and drive it from power in Congress.

Success in the Stock Market.
Few people understand how large fortunes are amassed so rapidly in stock operations. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have published "Two unerring rules for success" and full details, so that any one can operate. Mailed free. Their new combination system of dealing in stocks is wonderfully profitable. By this method thousands of orders, in various sums, are needed in one immense capital, and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and best skill. Profits divided every 30 days. $15 would make $75 profit, $100 would return $1,000 or 10 per cent. on the stock in the month, and so on, according to the market. A New York Fashion Editor and prominent newspaper correspondent, made over 375 per cent. profit on an investment, Oct. 5th, 1878. Many others are doing as well or better. Large or small amounts can be used with equal profit. This system of dealing in stocks is a Government bond supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 45 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

Township N. N. Convention.
The Sunday schools and all the friends of Sunday schools of Whitmore township, will meet in annual mass convention Wednesday, August 13th, 9 a. m., in the grove at the Union church and the Rutledge graveyard, two miles southeast of Orona. There will be a basket picnic dinner. A general attendance of all persons in the township interested in the cause is urged. Workers of the county in adjoining townships are invited and will be made welcome. A. L. Bess, Township Vice Pres.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Some Southern Representatives here, including Casey Young, of Memphis; Senator Lamar and General Hooker, of Mississippi, are organizing a relief bureau. It is evident, however, that they do not expect as large contributions from the North as were made last year. They say that during last year's epidemic, in many cases, money, clothing, and provisions were not economically distributed, some districts receiving more than they needed, while others received nothing. The purpose of this organization is to use the gifts to the best possible advantage.

A Memphis business man, who has arrived here, in speaking of the yellow fever, says that the half is not told of the ravages and malignity of the fever in Memphis by the public press, for the reason that the outer world would quarantine against its people if the whole truth was told. He states that the sanitary, or non-sanitary, condition of the city invites the plague, instead of repelling it, and that owing to the parsimony of the property-owners of Memphis, most of whom have now fled, the city was not thoroughly cleaned last winter. Becoming frightened at the warm weather approached, attempts were made to clean the city, which resulted only in increasing the danger of infection.

OWEN, Ky., July 23.—The jury in the trial of Thomas Buford, for the murder of Judge Elliott, after being out eighteen hours, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, and fixed his punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

TELEGRAPHIC MEMPHIS.

The Prospect no Better Wisconsin Republican Convention

MEMPHIS, July 23.—Each day brings its changes. Yesterday the situation was not so discouraging, and hopes were being entertained that Memphis would be spared the afflictions of an epidemic. To-day, however, the large increase in the number of new cases tells plainly of the horrors in store for those who yet linger in this ill-fated city. Nearly all who had the means have left. Those remaining are too poor to go, and will have to be supported at the expense of public charity, in camps that will be established just as soon as the selection of a suitable site can be made.

Dr. G. B. Thornton, President of the City Board of Health, and Col. Mike Burke, Superintendent of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad, left this morning to choose a camping ground, but returned this evening without having accomplished anything. They found so much opposition from the people living along the line of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad that they have abandoned the idea of establishing a camp on that route. The tents sent forward by the General Government are expected to arrive Thursday. Something must be done, and promptly, remove the poor masses out of the city. The authorities are determined not to open a commissary depot in the city. Only those who go into camp will be furnished with free rations.

There is, however, a movement on foot to organize a citizens' relief committee, which has not as yet assumed any definite shape. The Ancient Order of United Workmen and Knights of Honor have sent twenty-five families of members of their order to places of security. They can do this at an expense not exceeding $50 for each family, whereas if sickness should come among them the cost of each person attended for yellow fever would amount to not less than $200. The Masons and Odd Fellows will doubtless pursue the same plan. It is not only more economical, but it saves lives.

Large crowds of negroes are standing around the street corners, and eagerly listening to any report which bespeaks the distribution of free rations and the active operations of the Howard Association. They are persevering in their inquiries of "Boss, when is the Government rations to arrive?" As regards business there is nothing to report—no business is being transacted. A few stores, scattered here and there, can be found open, but Memphis is almost depopulated of her white inhabitants, and those remaining have no funds to purchase even the necessities of life.

The two Howards that have been placed on duty are actively at work, and have assigned nurses to half a dozen people who were sadly in need of such assistance. President A. D. Langstaff said this afternoon that the organization would not take the field until it was imperative upon them to do so. A case of yellow fever is reported at Bonanza Springs, Tennessee. A letter written by Dr. William B. Rogers to his father in this city announces that Lieut. Robt. Dowdy was taken ill at that resort last Saturday, and his symptoms were of yellow fever. At all events, J. C. Fulghum, the proprietor of the Springs, telegraphed to-day that hereafter no persons leaving Memphis after this date would be admitted as guests at Bonanza.

The steamer Belle of Memphis, from St. Louis, landed at the wharf late last night. She rang no bell, blew no whistle, had no signal lights out, and departed before daylight this morning. She returned to St. Louis, but took neither freight nor passengers. It is stated her owners had given a $50,000 bond not to do any business here, only to discharge her cargo of freight. The Centennial, from New Orleans to St. Louis, passed up this morning without landing. Thus it will be seen how Memphis is being shunned by passing steamers. The Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad will cease running trains to-morrow. This action is forced, owing to every station along the entire length of the road between here and Grenada having quarantined against Memphis.

To-night it is understood the authorities will purchase a piece of property seven miles distant from the city on the Paducah Railroad, and establish a camp there. Even after being the purchasers, it is doubtful if the site can be occupied, unless by force, so hostile are the people to the plan of establishing a camp in their midst. Rev. Father Walsh to-day secured twenty-five tents—all that were on hand—and to-morrow will re-establish Camp Father Mathew at a point three miles northeast of the city. A hundred additional tents will be furnished as soon as those already forwarded by the Government arrive.

The Rev. W. E. Boggs, who remained and was an active worker in the Howard Association last year, publishes the following this afternoon: "I take pleasure in acknowledging by last mail the following relief for our people: Hon. John Overton, Jr., $250; William Jack, Esq., $50. This is the best of help—self-help. Let other citizens follow the good example, and we shall not need much outside assistance."

Dr. G. B. Thornton stated this afternoon that he would report to-morrow the case of Michael Athy, brother to

Chief of Police Phil. R. Athy, as being yellow fever. One physician came to the Board of Health to-day for the purpose of reporting, but seeing the long list, left after remarking, "There are already enough cases reported for to-day. My two cases will last until to-morrow."

MADISON, Wis., July 23.—The morning opened cool and cloudy, with prospects of rain. The city has been rapidly filling up with delegations and excursions, including 500 from Janesville. Republican enthusiasm and good feeling are everywhere manifested.

This afternoon the mass-meeting in the Capitol Park will number many thousands, and give great eclat to the party canvass.

The State Republican convention was called to order in the Assembly Chambers by Horace Kublee, the Chairman of the State Committee, promptly at 10 o'clock. Mr. Kublee spoke of the harmony and glorious record of the party, and of the national cause, that must now dominate in the State canvass. His allusions to the financial policy of the party (the return to a specie basis) elicited applause. In conclusion, Mr. Kublee announced his wish to retire from the State Committee.

David Atwood, of Dane, and William F. Price, of Jackson, were nominated for temporary Chairman, and Mr. Atwood was elected vice vice.

Philetus Knight, of Pepin, and A. E. Thompson, of Green Lake, were elected Secretaries.

A Committee on Credentials was appointed, with Jonathan Bowman, of Columbia, for Chairman, and a recess until 11 o'clock was taken.

While the convention was waiting for the reports of committees, Congressman Pound, William Humphrey, R. W. Keyes and others were called out and made brief and felicitous speeches.

At 12:30 the Committee on Credentials reported 51 delegations present, entitled to 255 votes.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported for President, F. B. Cassidy, of Rock, and for Vice President, one from each Congressional district; for Secretaries, M. H. McCord, of Lincoln, and A. L. Hearn, of Iowa.

Mr. Cassidy took the chair and spoke briefly, reminding the convention that inspired by the glorious achievements of twenty-five years the party was expected to maintain its lofty attitude as the exponent of national unity and progress.

At 1 o'clock the convention ordered an informal ballot for Governor. The names of William E. Smith and Ludington were presented with eulogistic cheers.

The vote was taken by letters, with out roll-call. Total, 261. Smith had 170; Ludington, 85; scattering, 6.

Smith's nomination was then declared unanimous by acclamation.

The other State officers were renominated by acclamation, as follows: Lieutenant Governor, James M. Bingham; Secretary of State, Hans H. Warner; Treasurer, Richard Gauthier; Attorney General, Alexander Wilson; Superintendent of Public Instruction, William C. Whitford.

MADISON, Wis., July 23.—The committee on resolutions reported, and the report was adopted, as follows:

The Republicans of Wisconsin, by their representatives assembled in state convention, declare their adherence to the following propositions:

1. The Republic of the United States is a nation, not a confederacy of foreign states, and its Government is clothed with permanent authority for the regulation of all subjects of national concern.

2. The elections of members of congress are national elections, and as such the whole country is interested in having them fairly and peacefully conducted, so that every voter may be afforded an opportunity to exercise his right of suffrage freely, and without fear of personal violence, to vote once, and only once, at a given election, and to have his vote honestly counted and returned. It is the duty of the national Government to enforce this right. The Republican party is opposed to any military interference with elections, except when it is necessary to maintain the public peace and protect the constitutional rights of citizens. In no instance, under a Republican administration, have United States troops interfered with the exercise of free suffrage on the part of the people.

The Democratic party, by the votes of its representatives in congress against the proposition to prohibit the presence in the vicinity of the polls not only of United States troops, but of all men armed with deadly weapons, have clearly shown the bad faith and hypocrisy of its affected horror of bayonets at the polls. It would permit an armed mob of its own partisans to surround the ballot box, but would prohibit the employment of United States soldiers to protect peaceful citizens from intimidation and violence at the hands of the mob.

3. The refusal of a mere majority in congress to make appropriations of money already collected by tax from the people for the ordinary and legitimate expenses of the Government, with the purpose of compelling the president by his regards as unwise and wrong, is a revolutionary principle subversive of the constitution and deserving the condemnation of all good citizens.

4. The practice of attaching what is popularly termed as "political riders" to appropriation bills is revolutionary legislation, and should be prohibited.

5. The thanks and grateful recognition of the people are due President Hayes and to the Republican members of congress for their firm and successful resistance to the attempts made by the Democratic party to disarm the national Government on election days, and to repeal all laws for protecting the security of the ballot box and providing for the detection and punishment of fraudulent voting.

6. The successful resumption of specie payments has vindicated the wisdom of the Republican policy on that subject, and afforded a signal illustration of the lack of honesty of statesmanship which led the Democratic party to oppose resumption and declare that it was impossible. It has already borne precious fruits in enabling the Government to fund its debt at 4 per cent. interest, thus effecting a saving of many millions per annum, and promoting a feeling of confidence and security that is already giving a powerful impetus to business and industry and enterprise. The interests of all classes of people are best promoted by a currency possessing or representing intrinsic value, such as we have at present, and bearing a fixed relation to the world's money of commerce, and all attempts to modify existing laws in a way to introduce depreciation or fluctuations in the value of the money of the country, should meet with a firm and determined resistance.

7. That it is the duty of congress to enact laws to carry out the provisions of the constitution, with its amendments, and secure to the people of the states the rights guaranteed by it, and that laws, when enacted, are supreme and must be obeyed and enforced, and the recent attempts of the Democratic congress to repeal and strike from the statute books such laws, some of which were placed there by our fathers and have been enforced nearly a century, has no parallel in the history of the country.

8. That our state officers are entitled to the thanks and approval of the people for their wise and faithful administration of the public trusts committed to them.

CHEAP STORE,

18 Merchant St., Decatur, Illinois.

July 19-d&wtf

ALL accounts agree that there has been an unusual demand for cheaply made or shoddy boots and shoes. It is a very short-sighted policy to buy or sell such stuff. In using the goods you pay out twice as much money in a year for your boots and shoes, and you never have a pair that fits, because manufacturers of the cheap grades give no attention to the fit of their work. We trust that people who buy shoddy work will turn over a new leaf in the matter and practice true economy, by making up the first consideration of the purchase of boots and shoes. At the popular Boot and Shoe House of F. L. Hays, you can get a pair of boots and shoes for as little money as you can buy cheap grades elsewhere. His goods are made from the choicest materials, over unimpeachable styles of lasts, graded in size and width to fit the human foot properly, and no shoddy or deception there. Mr. Hays does a one-price cash business, and can afford to sell very low. You can find the largest assortment in the city of strictly good goods at F. L. Hays' New Shoe Store, 18 East Main street, corner just across the street from his old store and one door east of Millikin's Bank. June 24th, 1879-d&wtf

I will be in Decatur, at Caldwell Bro.'s Livery Stable, from Tuesday, July 25th, to Saturday, August 2d, 1879, for the purpose of buying horses, weighing from 900 to 1,500 pounds; must be in good condition; for which the highest market price will be paid. ALFRED WILKINS. July 24-dtf

The Macon County Fair.
The coming fair, which commences Sept. 23rd and ends on the 25th, promises to be the best exhibition we have had for years. The posters announcing the event are hung up in conspicuous places in the city, and in this and other counties. The premium list is issued, and copies of the same may be had on application to Secretary Thomas. The fair grounds are being thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and $200 worth of tiling put in. There will be many attractions at the coming fair, besides the usual display of live stock, agricultural implements, manufactured goods, etc. The management are endeavoring to secure the celebrated trotter, "Rarus," or some other equally good horse, to give exhibitions of speed during the week. The general admission has been reduced to 35 cents—thus making it within the reach of all to visit the fair at least one day out of the five. It is expected that everybody who feels an interest in the success of the exhibition, will talk and work for it at every opportunity. This has been an unusually prosperous season with the farming community, and as they are feeling good they will certainly attend in larger numbers than ever before.

A Fall Through a Sky-light.
This forenoon about nine o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Pratt visited Dr. Walter's dental parlors, over Barber & Baker's shoe store. They were accompanied by their interesting little son Harold, aged two and a half years. The parents were in the parlor, talking to the dentist, and the little boy escaped his mother's notice and went on an exploration through the rooms, all the doors being open to afford free ventilation. The little fellow unfortunately wandered through a door which leads to a platform surrounding a skylight, protected by a railing. Harold crowded through two of the supports, got on the thin glass, and fell through to the floor below, a distance of 14 feet. The parents heard the crash, hurried to the scene, and then lost no time in going down stairs and into the shoe store, where they found their little boy more frightened than hurt. Luckily he fell on his side, and with the exception of a slight glass cut on one of his limbs, is without injury.

Hardy Bros' Black Horses Sold.
Mr. E. B. Pratt, at No. 37 North Church street, has finally succeeded in accomplishing what many another horse-buyer has attempted to do within the past two years. He has bought Hardy Bros' celebrated premium carriage team of black horses. They have been in the possession of the Hardy's since 1875, and have taken thirteen blue ribbons during that time at the Macon, Moultrie and Shelby county fairs. They were shown double and single, and never failed to be awarded the first money, wherever exhibited. The late owners have frequently been offered $800 for the blacks. The animals are coal black, nine and eight years old, are 164 and 167 hands high, large and powerful, and have splendid action. They will be shipped to Seth Pratt, Litchfield, Conn., to-night with a lot of other valuable horses, to be sold at his sale stable.

The Independent Telegraph Line.
The statement appears in well-informed journals that Jay Gould, who owns a controlling interest in the Wabash railway, is making rapid progress in his pet scheme, the organization of the American Union telegraph lines. The New York Graphic says the Western Union is undoubtedly face to face with much stronger competition than it has ever before met. It is rumored that Gould has negotiated a heavy loan with the Barings, the money to be used in the prosecution of the telegraph and railroad schemes. While it is probable he will seek to effect the loan to enable him to perfect his great scheme, it is scarcely likely the public will at present get any definite particulars from him as to figures. The probability is that in case he does negotiate any loan abroad it will be for a much larger amount than $10,000,000, the sum stated. His plan of combination, in which he has made sufficient progress to show he is in earnest, requires the outlay of a very large amount of capital, and is destined to have a most material effect on the traffic of those routes grouped under the head of trunk lines.

How He Did It.
For the past few days Sheriff Postmyer has had an execution in his hands for $200 to be served on a farmer living in Oakley township. Yesterday he went to the farmer's house, but on inquiry found that he was at work in the town of Cerro Gordo, Platt county. Nothing daunted the redoubtable sheriff called on the gentleman and by a little strategy succeeded in getting him across the line into Macon county, where he pulled out his papers and served the execution. Now the people of Cerro Gordo say that if the sheriff ever strikes it a neighborhood again they will organize and ride him into this county on a rail.

The Lower Street Case.
Pursuant to adjournment the case of The City of Decatur vs. the Hoff family charged with disturbing the peace, on Lower street, in the 5th ward, came up for trial in Justice Curtis' court this forenoon. It attracted a big crowd and standing room is at a premium. The trial is in progress as we go to press.

A SUDDEN SUMMONS.

Death of Major Sheridan Wait, at Leadville, Colo., This Morning.

A telegram was received by Governor Oglesby to-day from Capt. M. F. Kanan at Leadville, Colo., announcing the sudden death of Major Sheridan Wait at that place this morning, from congestion of the stomach.

The deceased was for a long time one of the most prominent citizens of Decatur. He was born at Port Edward, New York, about the year 1828. He received a liberal education, and studied under the tuition of his father, an eminent lawyer of northern New York. He left home in 1850 and traveled extensively in the South seeking an inviting location to practice his profession. Not being favorably impressed with the South, he came to Decatur, Ill., and in 1851 formed a co-partnership with the late Judge Emerson in the practice of law. He was the Macon county attorney for the Illinois Central Railroad when the road was constructed through this section. Before the war he formed a partnership with Richard J. Oglesby, and afterwards the firm took the late Judge Gallagher. For a good many years the firm of Gallagher, Wait & Oglesby enjoyed a large and lucrative practice, which was interrupted by the outbreak of the war, in which each took a part—Oglesby first as a colonel, and afterwards successively as brigadier and major general; Gallagher as a captain of cavalry, and Wait as a major on the staff of his old partner. After the close of the war Major Wait returned to Decatur, but remained here only a few years, going to Chicago in 1870, where he has since resided. He had been in Leadville but a few weeks.

When Major Wait left Decatur he was thought to be wealthy, and for a long time after his removal to Chicago he dealt largely in real estate in that city and in St. Louis, making a good deal of money for a time, but since the panic of 1873 he has suffered in common with thousands of others who found themselves overburdened with unsalable real estate, and at the time of his death he was probably possessed of very much less than he had fifteen or twenty years ago. The deceased was a well-read lawyer, and as a counselor enjoyed a fine reputation, but he was never an advocate, his modesty and diffidence preventing him from making a success as a speaker. He was a correct and methodical business man, and had a great deal of practical ability. The only office he ever held here, as far as we know now, was that of mayor, to which he was elected in 1869, and the duties of which he discharged faithfully for the term. When Gen. Oglesby became governor, in 1865, he appointed Major Wait casual commissioner, which office he held four years. Prior to the war he was a Democrat in politics, but since then he has been a consistent Republican. He was a man of many amiable qualities, and had hosts of friends. He was never married.

A SCENE AT CHAMPAIGN.

The manner in which a lot of Dry Shirts were Improved Twenty Minutes.

Last spring the little village of Mattoon, situated in one corner of Coles county, went anti-licensing, and on the 4th of July they went back on the Decatur Guards to the tune of $150. Going back on their promises to guests, is very bad behavior. But read the following from the Champaign Union of July 23rd, and it will be seen what kind of a "rep." the "cravish gang" of the "jumping off place" enjoy away from home:

"Monday afternoon several carloads of excursionists on route for Chicago. Now, Mattoon is a temperance town, having several months since closed up all her saloons; hence one with a very fertile imagination can form some idea just about how dry those excursionists were. There was such a drought that it converted those copperheaded throats and stomachs into a raging, burning furnace. For several minutes the train stopped twenty minutes in Champaign, and dozens, scores, hundreds piled off that train with an alacrity that spoke volumes for their earnestness. As the crowd flies, as the bees go to the hive, so went these thirsty Mattoonites to the nearest saloons. Five minutes sufficed to bankrupt the adjacent saloons, then an attack was made upon those more remote, and by the time everything in liquid form had disappeared from these several dry loads of beer had been placed in the saloons where the battle began. Again they returned to the attack, extra bartenders by the dozen were pressed in glasses borrowed, tin mugs, funnels, oyster cases, in fact, anything that could hold beer was used, and the amount and the rapidity with which that fluid disappeared awakened serious doubts in the minds of several professionals in town as to the ability of the store houses and saloons to stand the run, but the whist of the engine and the several carloads recently arrived from Milwaukee, saved the day. It is impossible at this time to give any accurate statements as to the amount of beer drunk, but it is safe to say nothing like it has been seen since the war.

Out To-Day.

The old established and family favorite, WEEKLY REPUBLICAN, was issued from this office this morning, containing a full account of Monday's drowning, the Mattoon expose, the Dimeen watch business, military news, county court proceedings, personal mention, besides a large amount of other interesting local matter and the usual editorial and miscellaneous matter. A few extra copies may be had at the REPUBLICAN counting room if applied for immediately.

CALDWELL, SUMNER CO., KANSAS.

A Rare Chance for a Paying Investment.

Jean F. Webb and A. J. Wallace, the chief proprietors of the town of New Caldwell, Sumner county, Kansas, will be in Decatur for three or four weeks before they return west. During this time they will offer for sale a limited number of lots in their new town to such of their friends and acquaintances as may desire to make a highly remunerative investment. Terms made known at the law office of Jean F. Webb, Water street, Decatur, at which place also a correct plat of the town may be seen and full information obtained. The importance of this town is due largely to the following facts: It is the terminus of the railroad extending south from Wichita, and being on the line of the Indian Territory, it will be the distributing point, without a rival, for the immense supply of goods to the forts, Indian tribes and ranchmen of the territory. By its position it will have for shipment the greater part of the immense droves of Texas cattle brought annually from the South. It is locally supported by the best farming country in Kansas, and its retail trade will be drawn from a region of settled country twice the size of Macon county. It is one of the most beautiful and healthy town sites in Kansas. It has an abundance of good well water; a never-failing stream flowing close by; a sufficient supply of timber for fuel, and an excellent stone quarry within three miles. The attention of men seeking locations for business, and of capitalists seeking profitable investments, have already been turned to this important point. Men in Wichita, Topeka, and Kansas City, to name a few, have been first to see the importance of this new business center of the southwest, and have already invested several thousand dollars, although the town has been platted less than sixty days. The proprietors confidently believe that investments made now will yield a profit of 100 to 500 per cent. in three years, and that, in a limited way, it is one of the best openings for business and capital to be found anywhere.

Notice to Farmers.

It is generally conceded that David F. Hamber, at his new two-story shop on Wood street, puts up the best farmers' wagons of any manufacturer in Decatur. Call and examine his work, and learn his easy terms.

A COMPLIMENT TO DENTISTS.

When Did Warrensburg Ever Fall?

The M. E. excursion to Peoria, on the 17th inst., gotten up under the auspices of some of the noblest patrons of that enterprising little town, was, to speak in the highest terms, a grand success, both socially and financially. The weather was so warm for several days previous to the day appointed, that it was feared it would prove a serious drawback to the pleasures of the excursionists; but not so. Heaven seemed to smile on the undertaking, for the evening of 16th the weather grew decidedly cooler. By Thursday morning, the 17th, it was, according to the old saying, "All that heart could wish." The day was simply perfect. Passengers from Decatur, Beardale, Warrensburg, Latham, and other towns along the line, numbering in all more than 400, after a delightful three hours' ride, stepped off the train at Peoria with glad faces and happy hearts, determined to make the most of the day. The crowd dispersed to the various places of interest. The chief points of interest just at that time seemed to be "dinner." Quite a large number adjourned to Central Park, where all did ample justice to the contents of the well filled baskets. The afternoon was devoted to sight-seeing, boat riding, etc. We must not omit to mention in particular the merry party that boarded the "Isabelle" and spent such a delightful hour-and-a-half on Peoria lake. At 6:30 p.m. the excursionists—tired, but still happy—gathered at the depot and took the train for their various homes, feeling that it was a day long to be remembered.

No accident worthy of note occurred, unless we may be allowed to mention that of the worthy and esteemed gentleman from Decatur, who unfortunately lost his hat. Notwithstanding the little accident we trust the 17th day of July, 1879, will always be a pleasant memory to him. Excursionists.

We congratulate Messrs. Wheelock, Finlay & Co., of New Orleans, La., upon their happy idea of giving to the public information of the contents of Dr. P. Wilbott's Anti-Periodic or Fever and Ague Tonic, which of late has gained such well-deserved popularity among the people. As far as we know, this is the only proprietary remedy for the cure of Chills and Fever, the composition of which is not kept a secret. For sale by all druggists. July 17-dtf
